Friday September seventeenth. will be an interesting day to the hundreds of North Carolinians, including several camps of Confederate Veterans, who will journey to historic old Winehester, in the beautiful Valley of Virginia. This will be the last day of the annual fair of the Shenandoah Valley Agricultural Society and an interesting fea ture of the day will be the laying of the corner stone of the monument which is to be erected in Stonewall Cemetery to the mema ory of the North Carolina soldiers who either fell in battle or died in hospitals and are buried there. There are over four hundred North Carolina soldiers buried in Stonewall Cemetery, a larger number than from any other State. Besides contributing liberally to provide granite head stones for the graves of the gallant North Carolina dead, Mr. Charles Broadway Rouss, the generous New York millionairs, has announced his readiness to pay one half the cost of the prosposed monument, whatever that sum may be. Mr. Rouss has also announced his purpose to pay tribute to the North Carolina dead by partcipating in the ceremonies, though he is now totally blind. Rev. James B. lant North Carolina dead, Mr. totally blind, Rev. James B. Avirett, rector of an Episcopal church in Louisburg, North Carolina, has accepted the invitation A headache is a symptom of constipation. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, promptly and permanently. They do to deliver an address at the cornerstone laying. Many North Carolinoians now residing in Baltimore will esteem it both a duty and a sad pleasure to take part it the ceremonies.

A PERPLEXING PROBLEM

As the years come and go there are many new theories of political economy, but will all the advanced thought, the old doctrine of supply and demand holds its own. There has not been in a long time a better illustration than the dollar wheat of to day. The world's supply of wheat is small while the demand is large. If there had been a large crop of wheat, the price would have been small. But what about labor-saving machinery. Political economists have is an advantage to the world. MISS BERTHA WHITWOOD.

Mr. H. Kuhn, of Marion, Kansas;

Fe must first examine his patient by the light of science, to determine where and what the trouble is. He must determine and prescribe precisely the kind of drugs needed to affect a cure. He must direct the doses and leave no room for doubt on the part of the patient or druggist who compounds the prescription. There his duty ends.

The Druggist's Duty.

He should fill the prescription pre-cisely as it is written. He should not deviate a hair's breadth either in quantity or kind. His drugs and medicines should be the purest and best.
